SECTION I | LETTER FROM THE SECRETARIAT

Greetings Delegates!!!

On behalf of the Secretariat, we are thrilled to welcome you to the 1st Edition of the HIS Global Conclave. This event promises to be an enriching experience that will leave a lasting impression. The Conclave aims to showcase your creativity, diplomacy, and problem-solving skills as you engage in discussions around global challenges.

This is not just a simulation, but a unique gathering of bright minds from diverse backgrounds, tackling pressing issues with a focus on the Sustainable Development Goals. Our six esteemed committees are designed to address problems not commonly explored in other MUNs, and we eagerly anticipate your innovative solutions.

Beyond debates, the Conclave offers a platform to display your public-speaking, networking, and leadership skills while experiencing the richness of cultures from around the world. Active participation is key to making your committee a success and truly embracing the spirit of being a "MUNner."

We at HIS appreciate the enthusiasm students bring to international diplomacy, and we have worked diligently to ensure a seamless experience for all. Your involvement is the first step toward shaping the next generation of world leaders.

We can't wait to meet you all on November 15th for what promises to be productive and engaging discussions!

Warm regards,

Akhil Gokul

Secretary General

Rehan Saied

Deputy Secretary General

SECTION II | LETTER FROM THE EB

Dear delegates,

Welcome to the 1st Edition of HISK Global Conclave and to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO)
Which will be held on 15th November 2024.

For this session, we will look at two different agendas,

1. Education in Conflict Zones
2. Access to Quality Education

Education is the cornerstone of personal growth, societal progress, and global development. It empowers individuals with knowledge, skills, and critical thinking, enabling them to navigate the complexities of life. It fosters informed decision-making and problem-solving, develops cognitive, emotional, and social intelligence, enhances employability and economic opportunities, promotes cultural understanding, tolerance, and global citizenship, breaks cycles of poverty and inequality, nurtures innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurship, supports health, well-being, and lifelong learning.

To move forward with this Session, we will begin with a vote for either one of the agendas. Delegates must prioritize understanding and their countries' stances and foreign policies above all else. Delegates are expected to be up to date and appropriately versed regarding the Agenda. This background guide aims to give an insight into the topics and help you begin your research. We hope to have an educational and productive conference, addressing a vital aspect of bettering the next generation of World Leaders.

Yours Sincerely,

Rehan Dayim Saied - Chairperson

Gautham Vanan - Vice Chairperson

SECTION III | HISTORY OF THE COMMITTEE

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) is responsible for promoting peace and security through education, science, culture, and communication. In conflict zones, education is often disrupted, compromising the future of entire generations.

According to the Charter, the United Nations has four purposes:

- to maintain international peace and security;
- to develop friendly relations among nations;
- to cooperate in solving international problems and in promoting respect for human rights;
- and to be a center for harmonizing the actions of nations.

Mandate:

UNESCO's constitution, adopted in 1945, mandates the organization to:

1. Promote peace and security through international cooperation in education, science, culture, and communication
2. Foster universal respect for justice, human rights, and fundamental freedoms
3. Combat ignorance, prejudice, and misinformation
4. Support the free flow of ideas and knowledge

UNESCO's Main Objectives

1. Education for All: Improve access, quality, and relevance of education
2. Natural Sciences: Advance scientific knowledge and address global challenges
3. Social and Human Sciences: Promote social justice, human rights, and cultural diversity
4. Culture: Protect and preserve cultural heritage, promote creativity and diversity
5. Communication and Information: Foster free flow of information, promote media diversity and freedom

UNESCO's Key Functions

1. Standard-setting: Develop international norms, conventions, and recommendations
 2. Programme implementation: Support member states in achieving UNESCO's objectives
 3. Research and policy analysis: Provide evidence-based research and policy advice
 4. Capacity-building: Strengthen national capacities in education, science, culture, and communication
 5. International cooperation: Foster partnerships and collaboration among member states.

SECTION IV | INTRODUCTION TO THE AGENDA

Agenda 1:

"Education in Conflict Zones" focuses on ensuring access to quality education for children and youth affected by conflict, violence, or displacement. This topic encompasses:

1. Protecting education infrastructure and personnel
2. Providing alternative education solutions (e.g., online, mobile, or community-based)
3. Addressing psychosocial trauma and promoting well-being
4. Supporting refugee and internally displaced persons' education
5. Promoting peacebuilding and conflict prevention through education

Key Questions to Address

1. How can UNESCO ensure education continuity in conflict zones?
2. What innovative solutions can be implemented to reach marginalized populations?
3. How can education help prevent radicalization and promote peace?
4. What role can international cooperation play in supporting education in conflict zones?
5. How can UNESCO advocate for increased funding and resource allocation?

Country positions to Consider

1. Countries with ongoing conflicts (e.g., Syria, Yemen, Ukraine)
2. Countries hosting refugees (e.g., Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan)
3. Countries with experience in post-conflict reconstruction (e.g., Rwanda, Bosnia)

9. Somalia (Civil War, 1991-present)
10. Myanmar (Rohingya conflict, 2017-present)

Agenda 2:

Research and Understanding

1. Country's education system: Study your assigned country's education structure, policies, and challenges.
2. UNESCO's Education 2030 Agenda: Familiarize yourself with the Sustainable Development Goal 4 (SDG 4) and UNESCO's strategy.
3. Barriers to education: Investigate obstacles to accessing quality education, including poverty, gender disparity, disability, and conflict.
4. Innovative education solutions: Explore successful initiatives and technologies improving access to quality education.

Key Issues and Questions

1. Inequality in education: Address disparities in access and quality based on socioeconomic status, gender, and location.

2. Teacher training and capacity: Discuss strategies for enhancing teacher qualifications and effectiveness.
3. Curriculum development: Consider inclusive and culturally relevant curricula promoting diversity and global citizenship.
4. Funding and resource allocation: Examine ways to increase investment in education and ensure efficient resource utilization.

Country-Specific Information

1. National education budget: Understand your country's education expenditure and allocation.
2. Education infrastructure: Study the condition and accessibility of schools, particularly in rural or disadvantaged areas.
3. Relevant NGOs and organizations: Identify national and international organizations supporting education initiatives.

Relevant UNESCO Documents and Resolutions

1. UNESCO's Education 2030 Framework for Action
2. UNESCO's Strategy for Education in Emergencies

SECTION V | CLOSING REMARKS

Being the Delegates of the 1st ever HISK GLOBAL CONCLAVE, you all are assigned the responsibility of tackling any and all obstacles sent your way. A true World Leader cannot back down or give up in the face of a crisis and coming up with solutions is just child's play. This MUN is the kind of place where you can show just how much of a leader you are and that you have the skills necessary in getting your country the better end of the bargain and not undermining the rest of the World while doing so.

As delegates you must plan and execute long term solutions and address the ever increasing list of humanitarian crises of the world, more so the educational, cultural and scientific issues in these conflict times. As you ground yourself and come together with your fellow delegates, you ensure a focused approach, Following historical context into your modern solutions and resolutions.

This session requires the best of your diplomatic acumen, collaborative efforts, analytical and critical thinking and your ability to work together in creating a better World. In a MUN, whether it be your first, second or fteenth, winning is just a cherry on top of a cake of experience. No matter how rigorous and rough and heated the arguments and debates may get, you are always learning something new from them. Nothing better than a heated discussion then to see how diverse our people actually are, how differently others may think. In case your people skills aren't quite polished, you will definitely leave the MUN a more experienced and better prepared delegate than you were before.

We wish the very best for you and the conference and hope to make the World better than it was yesterday.

Regards,
Exec.Board , UNESCO Committee.
